

Date: 12 April 2012	Edition: New Delhi
Page No: 3	Headline: Commuters at Delhi's ISBT will now benefit from free Wi-Fi

the political and business daily

Commuters at Delhi's ISBT will now benefit from free Wi-Fi

PBD BUREAU

NEW DELHI, APRIL 11

THE Maharana Pratap Inter-State bus terminus (ISBT) one of the biggest terminuses of India which operates bus services from Delhi and seven (7) states will now be enabled with Tikona Digital Networks (TDN) secured wireless broadband Wi-Fi connectivity. Commuters from surrounding states can browse at the terminus with high speed Wi-Fi free of charge for the first 30 minutes, adding a whole new dimension of convenience and experience to their journey.

Speaking on the occasion, Sridhar Krish, COO, Tikona Digital Networks said, "We are happy to associate ourselves with ISBT India's oldest and biggest Inter State bus terminus's in the country. This deployment will enable lakhs of commuters to browse internet during transit and experience Tikona's next generation high speed secured wireless broadband."