

Tikona launches “Buy Internet on the Internet” services

Mumbai, May 22, 2012: Sitting at home, buying has become a few clicks away. Not just your daily needs, there are other services that can be bought online without having to go conventional way. Have you ever wondered buying internet on the internet? Tikona Digital Networks offers such a service, perhaps first of its kind.

Tikona Digital Networks (TDN) is a wireless fixed broadband service provider. Apart from offering connectivity of up to 4mbps speed, it has always looked at having interesting ways to reach out to its new age customers for home and enterprise. Now, net savvy customers have the comfort and convenience of buying TDN’s services on the internet for better connectivity. TDN’s services have been launched at a time when there is a growing trend among young professionals who spend a great deal of their time on the internet from pursuing online courses to planning holidays.

How it works? All you need to do is click on “check service availability” button and enter your details and the PIN (postal index number) of the area where you stay. The website then checks if the customer area is under Tikona coverage. The green circles confirms Tikona service availability in your area. Now you can proceed to order from a wide range of tariff options that the company has to offer suiting your needs. The four compelling plans available are Bill Free Plan upto 2Mbps, Bill Free Plan upto 4Mbps, Unlimited Usage Plan and Bonus Usage Plan. You also have the choice to review the orders before making the payment.
